SYNOPSIS ("THE BAR AT THE CROSSING"):
Vincent Van Horst likes the good things in life—he loves freedom and he is a drinker and an unrepentant womaniser. In 1916, he decides to leave a Europe torn apart by war and settles in Canada. There, he hopes to find Maria, the only woman whom he has ever truly loved. On the way, he makes friends with Olivier, a young man who dreams of only one thing—taking part in the war in Europe. On his arrival at the "Bar at the Crossing" run by Maria, Vincent realises that Maria has aged considerably. He overcomes his disappointment in the arms of the provocative Anne, who is just a tease who laughs quite openly at him. She even manages to get Vincent and Olivier to confront each other in a duel.

GENÉRIQUE

DURÉE : 85 min.
SORTIE : 23/08/1972

SYNOPSIS ("THE BAR AT THE CROSSING"):
Vincent Van Horst likes the good things in life—he loves freedom and he is a drinker and an unrepentant womaniser. In 1916, he decides to leave a Europe torn apart by war and settles in Canada. There, he hopes to find Maria, the only woman whom he has ever truly loved. On the way, he makes friends with Olivier, a young man who dreams of only one thing—taking part in the war in Europe. On his arrival at the "Bar at the Crossing" run by Maria, Vincent realises that Maria has aged considerably. He overcomes his disappointment in the arms of the provocative Anne, who is just a tease who laughs quite openly at him. She even manages to get Vincent and Olivier to confront each other in a duel.